BAND STORY

I'm a keyboarder producing my own music. I used to play in several bands and now resume that tradition. My real recording career began in 2001 when I found myself with the band in a local recording studio laying down some cover tracks. It was great fun but pricey. This led to me investigating in home recording. Now here I am, staying in my home studio together with the keyboards producing my own music. BTW: Getting started in that business is not as easy as one might think. In order for you having it easier than folks like me who started earlier there's this place called www.audiominds.com with tons of valuable information and a great bbs of which I'm one of the moderators (ask for Elwood Blues). If you're serious with the craft take a deep look at that site. I hope you'll enjoy my music and I look forward reading your opinion. Dennis

Back on motagator and back with songs

Yes, I'm back on motagator and I wonder how I did so long without it. Anyway, it feels great to come back again.

Although I'm a registered user since the early days in 2004 I have to admit I didn't care about my profile and my songs here for quite some time. Partly because I didn't have much time for making music during studies and partly because when I had the time I didn't spend it at the computer.

So I'm back again and I like it. To celebrate this I also uploaded two new songs which I played live on my arranger workstation. How can you not feel cosy and look forward to Christmas even when listening to the charming sound of the all-time classic "White Christmas"? And even when Christmas will be over again you might enjoy the rhythmic gipsy version of the traditional "El Condor Pasa". I for sure did and I hope so do you.

Yours, Dennis

New layout

Just saw what nice layouts are included in a premium account and found this one looking friendlier than the old.
