BAND STORY

Wings in Motion is a melodic death metal band from Greece, formed in September 2008, by Guitarists Pete Tross and Tasos Asonitis.

The band's style combines heavy, aggressive and even thrashy riffing, with melodic elements that give their sound a whole new dimension.

This modern melodic metal project consists of the singer Andre Boutos whose vocals cover a wide range, from dazzling aggressive and brutal vocals, to amazingly expressive clean ones.

Pete Tross and Tasos Asonitis take the post on Electric Guitars. Both of them have studied with internationally acclaimed guitar virtuoso, author and teacher Ioannis Anastassakis. A talented duet with amazing songwriting skills, they are the composers of the strong riffs and the incredible melodies that make up the characteristic sound of Wings In Motion.

The band fills its powerful line-up with George on bass, an intense and very skillful player. The puzzle is completed with Queldorai on keyboards, an excellent player who is adding his own unique touch to the band's sound and Tzo, an explosive drummer who has studied drums with the worldwide known George Kollias.

Currently, the band is performing live around Greece and recording their first CD.
